Presenting

The 1960 Bethanian

Bethany College

Bethany W. Va.

The cover design drawn by Ray Wolf, art editor of the Bethanian, is an adaptation of the Campbell-of-Argyle coat-of-arms. Legend ascribes its founding to one Duncan MacDuibhne, who, in 1386, was granted a crown charter. The said charter passed to his heiress, Eva o'Duibhne, who in turn married a Campbell. A wooden replica of this coat-of-arms hangs over the Phillips Hall fireplace.

Foreword...

A yearbook represents a year of school activity in its most vivid and best form. It must have integrity, feeling, and representative showing, so that when the holder looks at it in years to come, it will recall to him his part in that setting. The Bethanian staff has tried to show effectually these qualifications in the 1960 Bethanian. However, our theme and design are different from past years and should be explained briefly. The faculty section is presented informally with the teachers and professors lecturing in their natural teaching situations. By doing this, we hope to have captured the more natural scene to the student.

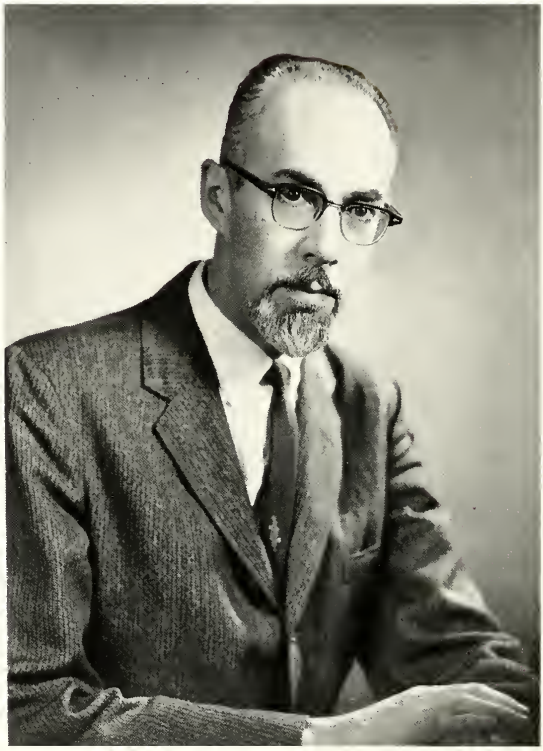
After four years of college the seniors deserve to be shown large and well so their section is the largest area in the book. We found it impossible to show all the various senior activities performed throughout one year and have tried to capture instead, a few of the highlights with informal photographs on each page. These informal scenes end with the climax of graduation. The other classes are in the senior section to give the yearbook more continuity, and to associate the senior class with the other classes as a student body. With the undergraduates are also various scenes performed by the particular class.

After the color division page for activities, the organizations and features are shown. The majority of these group pictures were taken outside for two reasons: to show the predominating spring beauty of Bethany, and to show the center of intellectual activity, "Old Main." Old Main is one hundred years old this year and its Gothic design blends with our Gothic theme as it has blended into the lives of so many students. Headlines are used in the following sections to catch the attention of the reader and direct him to the copy telling the story. Our copy follows strict form but should still be interesting and informing to read.

Sports represent action and excitement and we have let them do this by cutting down on copy and increasing pictures in this section. The good teams are bragged about and those having bad seasons are discussed critically but honestly.

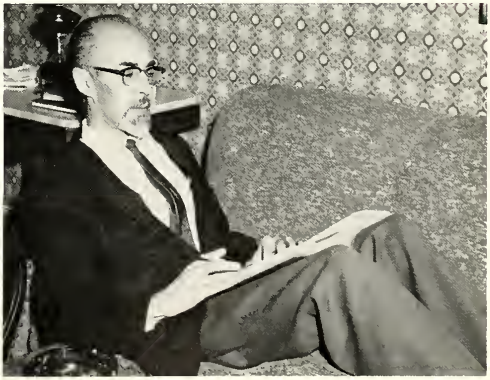
The balance of the 1960 Bethanian needs no explanation. It represents a great deal of work and much satisfying experience. To all those who we blinded with flashbulbs, interrupted their classes, or mis-scheduled their pictures, we hope you will forgive us as you read the following pages. We are proud to present something made, not just something done . . . The 1960 Bethanian Staff.

Dedication.



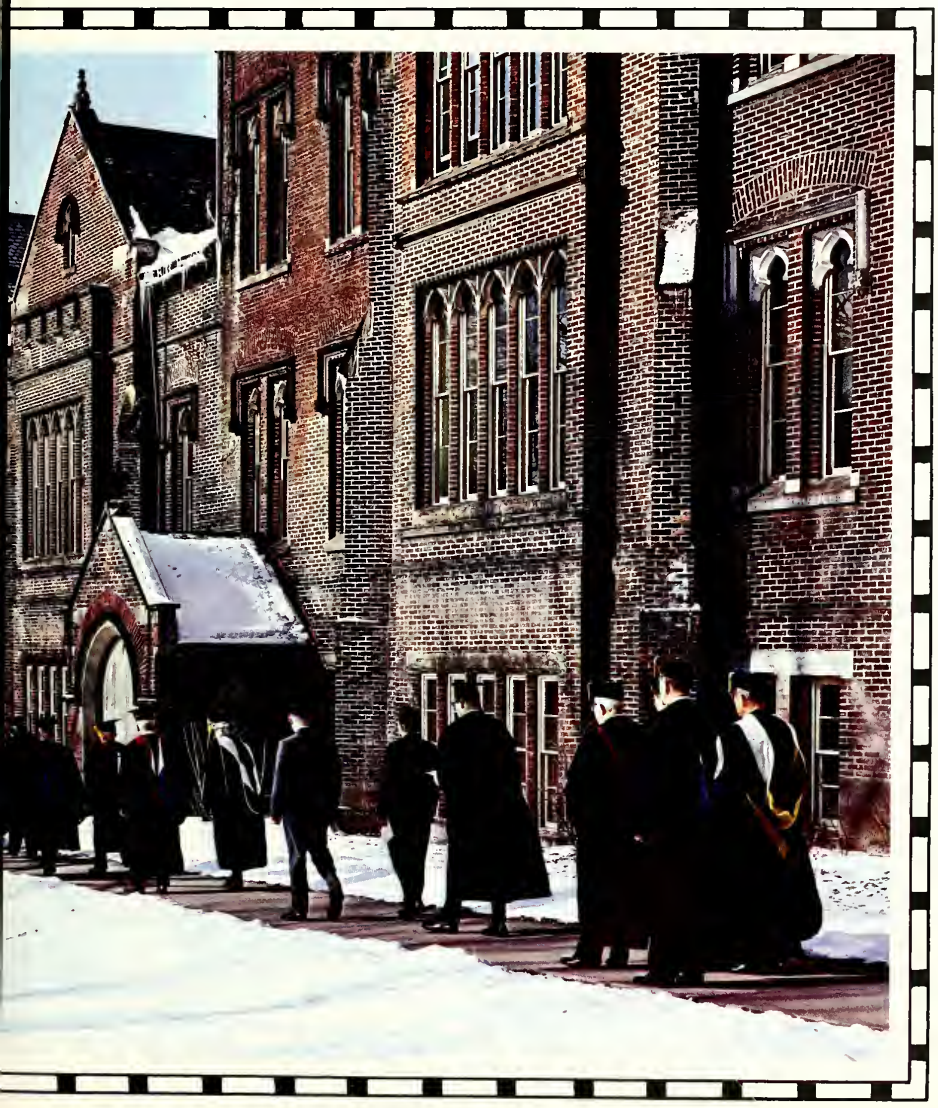
Thoughtfulness was not divorced from emotion when the Class of 1960 chose to dedicate this year's Bethanian to Professor George Haupfuehrer. Professor Hauptfuehrer came to Bethany fifteen years ago as an instructor in music. A well-educated person, he has earned the A.B. and B.M. degrees from Friends University; the A.M. degree from the University of Kansas; and has done further studying at the Pittsburgh Musical Institute, the Julliard School of Music, and Indiana University. At the present time, he is engaged in completing his Doctoral Dissertation through the program of Indiana University. He is a family man and has a lovely wife and four children.

Professor Hauptfuehrer, the Class of 1960 is proud to dedicate this Bethanian to you; and we thank and salute you for your contributions to the futures of Bethanians and Bethany College.



When he's not in the classroom, directing the Male Chorus, or socializing with students in the Bee Hive, Professor Hauptfuehrer has other favorite activities. Here we see him relaxing at home and listening to one of his recordings of organ music.

Faculty...



The faculty, dressed in their academic robes, file past "Old Main" on their way to formal convocation.

Walking up to Oglebay Hall on a pleasant afternoon, one is very likely to meet our President, Dr. Gresham, strolling from the Heights to his office. Intelligent, capable, personable, and devoted to Bethany and her students, Dr. Gresham concerns himself at all times with the progress and position of Bethany among comparable colleges in the United States. Having attended several excellent universities in America, Dr. Gresham is very well qualified to hold the position of President at Bethany College, and highly deserves the esteem and honor in which he is held across the country. Bethanians of yesterday, today, and tomorrow can be proud that a man of Dr. Gresham's high caliber heads our beloved Alma Mater.

DR. PERRY EPLER GRESHAM
President
Bethany College

DR. BERNAL R. WEIMER
Vice President

The title of Dean at Bethany can only apply to one man in the memory of alumni and students. That man is Dr. Bernal R. Weimer, Vice President, Dean of Faculty, and Head of the Biology Department. Author, educator and humorist, Dean Weimer is respected and revered by those who are fortunate enough to have communication with him.

WARNER G. PETERSON
Vice President

Warner G. Peterson, Vice President, Treasurer and Business Manager, is almost as familiar to the tennis courts as he is to the business offices of the College. Mr. Peterson is one of the most versatile members of Bethany's family of officers. In addition to his role as head of the financial program, he has led the school's tennis team to its share of victories.

ADMINIS

ROBERT A. PRESTON, A.M.
Dean of Students

LUTA M. GORDON. M.A.
Registrar

The three deans and two administrators on this page serve Bethany's students as advisors and guides. With their capable guidance the life of the average student assumes qualities of responsibility and leadership. We owe a sincere debt of gratitude to Dean Robert A. Preston, Dean Winifred Webster, Assistant Dean Rosemarie Pysh, Assistant Provost Robert A. Sandercox and Registrar Luta Gordon.

ROBERT H. YOCKEY, M.S.
Head Librarian

LESTER G. McALLISTER, Th.D.
Provost of External Affairs

Provost of External Affairs, Lester G. McAllister, is Bethany's connection with the world beyond peaceful Buffalo Valley. It has been partly through his efforts that Bethany has grown in national prominence over the past several years. But maintaining this prominence has been possible only through the efforts of men like Mr. Myers, Accountant at Bethany; and Mr. Watson, Director of Development.

The library staff, headed by Mr. Yockey who is assisted by Mrs. Woolery and Mrs. Shaw, is in the process of moving from our present library to the new library which will be open in the fall of 1960.

Professor of Psychology Emeritus

EMMERT E. ROBERTS, A.M.
Professor of Journalism Emeritus

"Not gone and certainly not forgotten" might appropriately describe the distinguished Professors Emeritus on this page. Miss Mahaffey, Dr. Leitch, Prof. Roberts and Dr. Ice have been as much a part of the Bethany scene as the Tower and Oglebay Gates. They have been part of the influences which have made Bethany the outstanding educational institution it is today.

With men as well qualified as Dr. Allen still in the classroom, these high standards of education will continue to be maintained.

JAMES W. CARTY JR., M.S.
Professor of Journalism

Jim Carty is the man with a 24-hour day and enough energy to work 20 of them. In addition to his position as newly appointed Head of the Journalism Department, he has been the able Director of the College News Bureau during the past year.

Bethany's English Department is headed by Miss Helen Louise McGuffie, who for some time has been working on her Doctoral Dissertation. Assisting Miss McGuffie in the teaching of the various phases of the English language and literature are Mr. Taylor, Mr. Sykes, and Mrs. McKenzie.

MODERN LANGUAGES AND SECRETARIAL TRAINING

The Modern Languages Department of Bethany College, under the direction of Dr. Earl D. McKenzie, has done an excellent job introducing Bethanians to the intricacies of foreign languages. Educated in this country and in Europe, Dr. McKenzie is well qualified to direct the program and activities of this department. We owe a vote of thanks also to Miss Woods, Mr. Ferris, and Mr. Forbes for ably instructing us in French, German, and Spanish.

Mrs. Forgione, Associate in Secretarial Training, competently instructs her students in the complexities of the typewriter and also leads them to a further understanding of shorthand.

MARGARET R. WOODS, A.M.
Associate Professor of Modern Languages

JACQUES C. B. FORBES, M.A.
Instructor in Modern Languages

WILLIAM N. FERRIS, M.A.
Assistant Professor of Modern Languages.

SOCIOLOGY AND ECONOMICS

Combining dry humor with the facts and theories of economics, Dr. David Ross, as newly appointed Head of the Department, is one of Bethany's most outstanding men. He works very well with the other members of the department, and with their help, is striving toward an even stronger program.

Intelligent, well educated and a nationally recognized sociologist, Dr. Richard Schanck is a fine asset to the Bethany faculty. Competently directing the program of the Sociology Department, he is well known and liked by the students with whom he works.

Professor of Economics
Head of the Department

BENJAMIN C. SHAW, Ph.D.
Professor of History and

MATHEMATICS, HISTORY AND POLITICAL SCIENCE

BENJAMIN H. GRIFFITH, M.A.
Part-time Assistant Professor of History

BRADFORD TYE, M.S.
Associate Professor of Mathematics
Head of the Department

Another of Bethany's family of outstanding scholars and educators directs the affairs of the History and Political Science Department. He, as we all know, is the author, traveler, and photographer, Dr. Benjamin C. Shaw. Through the efforts of Dr. Shaw and the Administration of the college, this department has reached new heights of activity and merit with the addition of Mr. O'Neill, Mr. Bullard, and Mr. Griffith to their membership.

With a piece of chalk in one hand and the other on the math book, Mr. Tye leads the math students into the mysteries of the mathematical world.

FINE ARTS DEPARTMENT

Professor of Music
Head of the Department

JOHN D. BABINGTON, M.A.
Assistant Professor of Speech and Dramatics

GEORGE K. HAUPTFUEHRER, A.M.
Associate Professor of Music

ALFRED RIGNER, A.B.
Part-time Instructor in Music

KENT K. McALEXANDER, M.A.
Assistant Professor of Art

The Fine Arts Department has been greatly enhanced this year by the addition of three new men: Dr. Jorgenson and Mr. Rigner in the Music Department, and Mr. McAlexander in the Art Department.

The Music Department has been honored this year by the selection of Mr. Hauptfuehrer by the Senior Class for the Dedication of this year's Bethanian.

Since the addition of Mr. Babington to the faculty, the Speech and Dramatics Department has carried on a very successful program. This year the Department, working with the Music Department, ended the year with the fine presentation of "Dido and Aenead" in the Arts Festival.

BIOLOGY AND CHEMISTRY

Assistant Professor of Biology

Professor of Chemistry
Head of the Department

SHIRLEY W. GADDIS, Ph.D.
Assistant Professor of Chemistry

WILLIS D. RICHEY, Ph.D.
Assistant Professor of Chemistry

WILMA SHANER, A.B.
Instructor in Biology

Upon entering Oglebay Hall at various times during the day, one is apt to notice some sort of foreign aroma permeating the building. This fragrance is likely emanating from one of the labs in the building and is probably formaldehyde or sulfuric acid in one of its numerous mixtures. Chemistry and Biology, the mainstays of Bethany's premedical training program, are headed by two members of Bethany's outstanding faculty, Dr. Weimer and Dr. Draper. Leading their students to an understanding of the physical world, they prepare them adequately for the tasks which await them after college.

Professor of Religion
Head of the Department

RELIGION

The Religion Department, under the leadership of Dr. Osborne Booth, is proud to boast several fine educators and devoted Christians. Among these are Dr. Ice, Dr. McAllister, and Dr. McGavran. This department educates Bethanians in the history and philosophy of religion from an unbiased point of view.

Instructor in Religion

Visiting Professor of Religion

WILLIAM M. COCHRAN, A.M.
Instructor in Psychology

PSYCHOLOGY

Amidst the squeaking of rats and the clacking of calculating machines figuring means and medians, the Psychology Department carries on a well-rounded program of training. Under the leadership of Dr. Ray, and with the assistance of Mr. Cochran, the department is an asset to Bethany College.

Professor of Psychology
Head of the Department

JOHN V. KNIGHT, A.M.
Professor of Physical Education
Head of the Department

HAROLD E. MARTIN, A.M.
Assistant Professor of Physical Education

Instructor in Physical Education

EDUCATION AND P. ED.

Two more of Bethany's fine departments are to be seen on this page; those of Dr. Liggitt and Coach Knight. Dr. Liggitt, in his first year at Bethany, has successfully maintained the high quality of the Education Department, and Coach Knight, in his thirtieth year here, has proven his worth once again as Director of the Bethany Athletic program.

In concluding the Faculty Section for the 1960 Bethanian, we wish to say to the Faculty and Administration of Bethany College a grateful "Thank you." In days and years to come, we will remember and appreciate you who have taught us so well.

SENIOR EVENTS LEAD

After four years, many different patterns have been left upon the foreheads of the seniors. As graduation approaches, many changes can be noted that distinguish the senior. First there is the re-occurring gowns at formal convocation, job interviews, and talk of what one is going to do when he graduates. Close behind spring comes reading period. This is short preparation for final written exams lasting a day and a half and oral exams where professors ask the potential graduate questions verbally.

graduation day, a week away. Caps and gowns are put on for the last time at the bleachers across from the field house. Parents are seated, the graduates parade in and join in singing the National Athem. The program begins. The diplomas are handed out one by one as the seniors file past shaking hands with President Gresham and Dean Weimer. Then the guest speaker, the Alma Mater, hugs, kisses, and congratulations, and the cars file homeward. A quick glance back reminds the new alumnus that he will recall these glorious years again and again in time to come.

JUNIOR

"Juniors" are a strange lot. They can be found anywhere on campus at any particular time performing in numerous activities. They are a mixture of transfers, upper division sophomores, and lower division seniors. This nonchalant group did nothing as a class like the sophomores and freshmen, but are involved in practically everything that happens at Bethany. This year alone, they helped form a Junior Chamber of Commerce, organized a win-

SOPHOMORE CLASS

The class of '62 showed how much they had matured over the summer after their freshman year when they came back to take part in campus activity. One of the more outstanding efforts of a class as a whole and the highlight of the sophomore year was their presentation of a two hour show called "Mardi Gras."

The extensive advertising campaign was begun early with the releasing of a huge balloon at the Winter Carnival. Eye catching slogans were used during movie weekends and gift cakes were given during an evening meal. Then the cast sponsored a field trip to Weirton Steel and a free "Mardi Gras Dance" at the field house with free refreshments. The final advertising campaign was a full page issue in the Tower. This told about the history of the festival of the "Mardi Gras" in New Orleans and gave the student body an introduction to the show.

The performance itself was quite spectacular. One was entertained with music from a stereophonic sound system valued at $4,000. The stage in Commencement Hall was enlarged and filled with a brilliant set. More than 300 persons were involved in the production, and there were about fifteen acts ranging from jazz bands to pantomime.

The intermission consisted of candy throwing, confetti twirls, balloon dropping, and the entire cast walking up and down the aisles making lots of noise and general excitement. The director of the show was Fred Rommig and the Publicity Agent was Fred Stottlemeyer. Criticism after the show was diversified, but most of those who attended agreed it was indeed a success.

FRESHMEN PRESENT

The Freshman Class for the '59-'60 academic year came to Bethany this fall fresh from high school. They had to be oriented into the college way of life. This orientation was directed by the Varsity "B" Club in a program called hazing.

The hazing period is designed to make the transition from high school to college an easier task for the new students. Nametags, beanies and student handbooks were some of the materials that the newcomers were compelled to carry with them at all times. The hazing period spanned the first three weeks of the "fall season" and was climaxed with tribunal and the homecoming football game. Next the rushing period started and the frosh were completely "snowed under" by many hopeful fraternity and sorority actives. The rush period due to a concentrated program expired just before the Thanksgiving vacation.

By December, college life at Bethany was in full swing and the Freshmen planned for future months. The traditional freshman show was scheduled for April 22 with Barbara Langbein as director. The show was of the variety type and had as its theme "Spring Fair." This theme was quite adequate for the show considering the time of year.

Although the year has gone quite fast for the upperclassmen. the freshmen, no doubt, thought of it as a long tedious grind because of the many adjustments that had to be made. However, they will all be looking forward to next year when they become upperclassmen and can holler, "Hey, Frosh, get off the grass."

STUDENT NURSES ATTEND

Every Monday morning at 9:00 o'clock a huge yellow bus arrives behind Old Main and unloads its 40 passengers. They are student nurses from the Ohio Valley Hospital in Stubenville, Ohio. The majority of the student body seldom sees them during their day of classes, yet they are as much a part of the student body as those students who live in Bethany.

The nurses are pre-clinical students for six months and attend classes from 9:00 to 12:00 and from 1:00 to 4:00 o'clock. During this time they take courses in psychology, chemistry, and microbiology.

After this period, they receive their nurses' caps and become Freshman Student Nurses. Then their attendance of classes is only in the morning. This nine months program of classes at Bethany is a part of their three month nursing program.

Every month they sponsor a dance where they invite Bethany students and occasionally attend social functions at Bethany. The nurses enjoy attending classes at Bethany and like the personal contact it gives them with the college students. They only regret occasionally the bad winter bus rides from Stubenville.

What a busy group these nurses are.

Dr. Richey looks in to make sure.

I have a very important question to ask about this dot.

GUIDES FRATERNITY RUSHING

The Inter-Fraternity Council is composed of representatives from Bethany's five national fraternities; Alpha Sigma Phi, Beta Theta Pi, Kappa Alpha, Phi Kappa Tau, Sigma Nu.

This group, besides establishing and enforcing rushing rules, solves any problems that arise concerning the fraternities. Matters are voted upon by the representatives and the decisions passed on to the college and the student body. The president is selected by a rotating system where each year a different fraternity elects one of its members to lead the council. This year's president was H. Dixie Walker of Phi Kappa Tau. Another achievement of the organization this year was the establishment of inter-fraternity intramurals with West Liberty State Teachers College.

The Alpha Sigs opened a busy social year by hosting all the freshman women at an informal party at their fraternity house. Shortly thereafter, during Homecoming weekend, the brothers of Beta Gamma celebrated the thirtieth anniversary of the chapter's chartering. They also won a trophy for their Homecoming float. As a result of their successful rushing season, the Alpha Sigs more than doubled their size.

In December, the Alpha Sigs celebrated Founders Day with a breakfast as guests of the Sandercoxes after which they attended church services together. At midnight, the annual Black Lantern Procession in honor of the founders and members of the Omega chapter began its silent tread through Bethany. Next came the successful Winterbreez Formal where the Alpha Sigs and their dates en-

BETAS WIN

The Betas started out the year quite excited as they moved into the new addition built onto the fraternity house called the Great Hall. The social year was begun with a tea for the faculty held by the alumni. Then a series of Sunday parties were given for the various women's organizations.

Many different sweater parties were held throughout the year with some featuring the music of Algie Davis. In the wee hours of the morning. Betas and their dates arose to attend the Annual Dawn Dance featuring a beatnik theme. The formal was held at the American Legion in Wellsburg and was enjoyed by all.

The Betas also won the Greek Sing for the third year in a row, and had the highest scholastic average among the fraternities. The annual Psi Stampede was a scene crowded with many alumni looking at the new construction done on the fraternity house and plans were made concerning the Betas' one-hundredth anniversary that will be held next year.

K.A.'S HAVE

After the frenzy of rushing was over the K.A.'s held their Convivium Dinner at Figarettis in Wheeling. The pledges then devoted their spirited efforts to renewing the appearance of the fraternity houses. They painted the interiors of both houses and improved the "facilities" as well. During the summer months the exterior of the chapter house will be painted as well. Effort is also heard to be placed on plans for a new house.

Beta Beta chapter had a real highlight this year as they received a trophy from the National Fraternity recognizing them for being the outstanding chapter in academic achievement. Let's give an ol' Rebel warwhoop for the K.A.'s.

PHI TAUS WIN

"A Suppressed Desire Party, are you serious?" was one of the few comments heard when the Phi Taus swung into their social events. They seemed to come up with more unusual themes than any of the other fraternities. In January, for example, they held a Roller Skating Party at the Bethany Pike Roller Rink, wherever that may be. Then Phi Tau Weekend consisted of a costume affair on a Friday night and a formal dance on Saturday night at the McClure Hotel in Wheeling. They did get serious, however, when they held an annual Christmas party for the Wheeling Orphanage. You should have seen those football players on the floor playing choo-choo-train with the kids.

Not to let themselves be outdone in athletics for which they are noted, they regained the Intramural Trophy, winning many of the major events.

SIGS HOLD ANNUAL

The Sigs began their year with a great deal of pledge activity. First, the pledges, all 35 of them, paraded around campus after pledging, singing fraternity songs. Then they burned the fraternity letters on Greek Letter Hill the following Friday night.

Beards were seen again as Sigma Nus began preparing for their annual Bowery Brawl. This always gets the social life of the fraternity off to a different and interesting start. Later in January the pledges held a dance with a River Boat theme. Through the winter months various sweater parties were held along with the annual Christmas party for children. All these events eventually led up to the White Rose Formal held at the Fort Stuben Hotel. At all the Sigma Nu events is found the warm-hearted housemother, Mrs. Anna "Mom" Martin.

This year the Sigs finally proved which fraternity had the most athletes participating in varsity sports as they won the trophy for most active membership. All the talk about a new fraternity house has now begun to materialize. The house is to be "L" shaped in modern design and will be located at the entrance to the coal bowl. It will house 36 and the Sigs are looking forward to this benefit as well as the college. It should be a sight to behold since the plans were drawn by a Sigma Nu architect from Pittsburgh. No secret passageways are there?

Rick Reddington as Big Bull of the Moo Moo Moo and president of the IFC, and Julie Frankel, the new editor of the Bethanian, helped hold Sigma Nu prominence on campus. Bill Fainglas relieved Dan Altiere as Commander, while other new officers are: Lieutenant, Dave Secor; House Manager, Emerson Trushel; Social Chairman, Mark Dorlester; Treasurer, Bill Shephard; Recorder, Art Tanenbaum.

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL CONTROLS PLEDGES

Talk. talk. talk. goes on quite often when a group of Bethany coeds get together. That is not the case, however, when the Panhellenic Council meets. The Council, composed of different sorority representatives, is in charge of all rushing rules and doctrines concerning freshman women.

The Panhellenic Council began the rushing season this year with the Panhellenic Tea given for all new women students. This was later followed by coke parties and rush parties where the girls attend different sorority houses in obtaining data for a later pledging choice. Many colorful skits are given for the freshman girls as the sororities go all out to get the best pledges.

Later, "Help Week" is held for all the pledges. The dreaded week began on February 9 at 5:30 in the morning. The groggy pledges were forced in Phillips Hall lounge with the help of many different gruesome shaped paddles. Then, as they sat, eyelids sagging, they heard the instructions to be followed for the week that ended on Saturday. First on the list was the invigorating climb up Greek Letter Hill where they had to place their respective sorority letters. The remainder of the week became much more constructive as the happy little faces of the pledges were seen in the homes of faculty members and other sororities above mops, brooms, and other cleaning utensils.

The "Help Week" ended as a triumph for the pledges, however, as they rebelled to the Bee Hive and paraded around for all to see that they had broken from their mighty overseers. Back to talking to boys, messing up the sorority houses they had just cleaned, sleeping in late, and best of all wearing sweaters for three weeks so that all could see their well-earned sorority pins. The Council is at rest.

Just like a Broadway play.

Could we do this every night?

ALPHA XIS WIN

Other than the 8c cup of coffee in the Bee Hive, the other better bargain on campus is the Alpha Xi Delta shoe shine held on a spring Saturday in the Hive for 25c. This is part of their Philanthropy Project to raise money. The other half, and another good deal is the annual Pizza Party they hold in the Bethany House with checkered tablecloths and candlelight to boot.

This is only a part of their earlier social events that included a Ski Party held at Oglebay Lodge, slumber parties, and the formal which was combined this year with the Zetas. Notice the new togetherness of the sororities?

The active chapter also held a dinner for their pledges at Yandas in Wheeling following initiation. "Under the Sea with Alpha Xi" was the theme used by the pledge class for their dance. Phyllis Inman was selected as best pledge and Barbara Clark was

Other Alpha Xi achievements were the winning of the Scholarship Cup and the float award at Homecoming. Betty Hurley was crowned Queen of Hearts and represented Alpha Xi Delta on the Homecoming court along with Carolyn Jenkins and Barbara Wolff. Sally Kelly served as captain of the Cheerleading squad and three other members were elected to Kalon. The Alpha Xis also won the volleyball, basketball and softball championships in intramurals. This sounds like the Phi Tau copy on intramurals.

Marti Wagner succeeded Barbara Wolff as president while other officers are: Vice President, Pat O'Nasch; Treasurer, Barbara Henk; Recording Secretary, Sandy Jones; Corresponding Secretary, Nora Rempke; and Rush Chairman, Mary McConnell.

K.D.'S WELCOME

The K.D.'s used their spacious front yard with the long walkway to welcome two distinguished visitors this year. The first guest, and who was not a guest for long, was their new housemother "Mimi" Gremillion. The other was their Providence President who visited in November. This seems to have been quite a year among the fraternal orders to welcome Providence Presidents.

They began quite a good year as the K.D.'s pledged a class of 22, and as you can see on the opposite page. Duck tried unsuccessfully to get them all into his car. Starting the year off with a slumber party called "Japanese Sandland," the pledges moved quickly around the globe to hold a dance with a French theme called "La Cafe Rose Blanche." The pledges also won the trophy-skit in the Varsity "B" Show.

Chapter functions included the Christmas serenade, the annual Valentine's Day Open House, and

In the course of the school year, Joan Preston and Barbara Queern were selected for membership in "Who's Who." Sally Guttormsen, Barbara Mitchell and Cathi Nelson were elected to Kalon. Barbara Mitchell was also elected to Gamma Sigma Kappa and named as the outstanding Junior English Student. On Honors Day, Cathi Nelson received the Shirley Morris Memorial Award for outstanding work in modern languages. No wonder with all of those foreign dances. Other members held offices in SNEA, CLEW, and Beta Beta Beta. Harriet Rush succeeded Sally Guttormsen as President. PHI MUS WINNERS

President Gresham crowned Rosalie Dennis Homecoming Queen at Oglebay Park to start the year off right for the Phi Mus. Then in November, driftwood was put aside for a "South Sea Island Party." A Winter Serenade Hoedown was held at the first of the year followed by their Spring Dinner Dance. The Phi Mus waited until March winds began to blow, however, to have their annual open house. The Formal was held at the Windsor Hotel in Wheeling.

The pledge class was very active when they were everywhere on campus pressuring poor unsuspecting chaps to buy corsages for the Queen of Hearts Dance. Toward the end of the year, those ornery pledges threw Pledge Master Carol Lawson in the Buffalo and started a free-for-all. Even the bystanders got wet.

This year the Beta Nu Chapter celebrated its 20th anniversary. Congratulations, girls. Again this vocally inclined group of girls showed their high esteem for singing. A group of Phi Mus, known as the "Six Singing Sisters" became popular both on and off campus engagements. And, as a preliminary to Greek Sing, the Phi Mus cut a twelve-inch record of the Greek Sing and Serenade Songs. The cover of their album is appropriately called "Phi Mu Serenade" and shows the girls in full color with the campus as a background. Have to give a plug once in a while, you know.

CORYS DO WELL

The Zetas had a rare combination of leadership this year as Clare Cory was president of the chapter and her sister was president of the pledge class. These sisters did well on campus also. Clare was elected to Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities along with Ann Eakin, while Brooke was presented with an award for the highest pledge average.

Other sorority members did well, too. Sally Wood was elected queen of the Winter Carnival, and Sally Richardson is president of SNEA. More members hold offices in the Women's Recreational Association, the Newman Club, the Band, and Associated Women Students.

Early in October, the Zetas followed Founders Day Services with a tea for alumni. Then in January a spaghetti dinner was given for pledges and their dates. The Zetas also had a Sponsored Edu-

The Pine Room was the scene of many girls and their dates as the Zetas put a foot forward and held their formal with the Alpha Xis. Most agreed that it made a more interesting dance.

Other chapter functions included a Beatnik Dance, Christmas Open House, and a party held at Pendleton Heights for their patrons and patronesses. After the Pendleton Heights party, the Zetas gave an all-campus serenade.

INDEPENDENT MEN WIN WOOLERY CUP

Ken holds child in place while shaping knees.

They've done it again! The W. Kirk Woolery Scholarship Cup, which represents the highest average achieved by men's organizations on campus yearly, was presented to the Independent Men on Honors Day for the fifth year in a row. Founded in the year 1955 by Thomas Buergenthal, the Independent Men's Association has certainly upheld the high intellectual and social standards of its founders.

This group of scholars also has some outstanding members in the extracurricular activities. Edward Silverg was elected to membership in Gamma Sigma Kappa and Kalon, M. Thomas Speer was president and founder of the Arts Club and the Discussion Group. The Independents were also proud of Ray Wolf, as we were, for being Art Editor of the Bethanian.

The I.M.A. held two very successful novelty dances this year; the Bohemian Ball and the Charles Adams Dance. The Charles Adams Dance loosened upon the attendants, citizens of the Limbonic Society; Ghouls, Vampires, and other choice specimens of horror. Here their name of Independents released its meaning. For the Bohemian Ball, they unchained some of their Greenwich Village-type artists to do the decorating, imported girls from Washington Square, and closed the world out while plotting to convert Bethany to their ways.

INDEPENDENT WOMEN HOLD BACHELOR OF YEAR PARTY

The Independent Women began the year with a party for unaffiliated freshman women at the close of Formal Rush Week. The outstanding event held by the Independent Women each year is the "Bachelor of the Year Dance." A week or two before the dance, the different fraternities select who they feel is the most prominent bachelor in their chapters and submit the names to the Independent Women. Soon after, many different signs are seen about campus soliciting votes for each fraternity candidate. The dance follows a home basketball game with a band and refreshments. The highlight is the crowning of the Bachelor of the year. This year Harry Kirsch of Kappa Alpha was crowned King. Incidentally, he is still unpinned. The Independent Women were also in charge of the refreshment stand at the A.W.S. Carnival.

The Association of Independent Women held elections for new officers on Tuesday, February 16. Jill Miner succeeded Linda Lewis as President. New Vice President and Treasurer is Marie Coughenour, and Joy Scott is Secretary.

Before leaving office, the past president, Linda Lewis, reviewed the year's accomplishments. A constitution was compiled, written and passed. The scholastic rank raised from fourteenth to seventh position in the college ratings.

STUDENT BOARD OF GOVERNORS AND ACTIVE

Ed swears in winner Jack Aupperle.

"Although my name implies Christmas, I am not here to run a Santa Claus ticket," stated Art Tanenbaum as he began his campaign speech for president of the student body. Although he did not win the presidency but vice president instead, Art along with Jack Aupperle and Dave Updegraff set very rigorous standards in their campaigns. All can't win, however, and Jack Apperle relieved Ed Ihle as President of S.P.O.G. and began preparing for a very tough term.

Bethany's Student Board of Governors acts as the representative body between all students and the faculty for matters of administrative or campus-wide concern. Key projects undertaken by the board this year were re-evaluation and improvement of the Freshman Orientation Program, initial modernization of the Student Board Constitution and By-Laws, and steps toward more communication between students and faculty on such matters as class attendance and student discipline. The year was indeed a good one and S.P.O.G. accomplished what a board should do. Have you noticed that a frequently used word, "apathy," has been dropped from student conversation?

SOCIAL COMMITTEE HAVE GOOD YEAR

"Let's have a party. Who can we get to organize it?" Call on the Social Committee like the rest of the student body.

The Social Committee, headed by Dick Lipton with Secretary Cathi Nelson, began the 1959-60 season with the Queen of Hearts Ball. The Mad Hatter conducted the coronation ceremonies and Ellen Zeh reigned as "Queen of Wonderland."

The Spring Cotillion, combined with an afternoon jazz concert, pioneered Bethany's first spring weekend. The semester ended with the coal bowl picnic and a dixieland band.

New freshmen became acquainted with old Bethanians at the Phillips Hall Lodge Party. Homecoming weekend was October the 10th, and the halftime festivities featured the homecoming court. A dance was held following Homecoming in the Pine Room at Oglebay Park where Dr. Gresham crowned the queen and all enjoyed dancing to the music of Bobbie Vinton's orchestra.

On the Thursday following the Christmas Formal, a rock and roll yuletide celebration in the Hive brought the crowded social season to a close.

Candidates for SPOG had vigorous campaign for office.

WHO'S WHO, GAMMA SIGMA KAPPA, KALON

Who's in Who's Who? The above Bethany students are. They have been selected by the college nominating committee for outstanding academic achievement and campus leadership. In other words, they are sort of a combination of the scholar in Kalon and the outstanding student on campus in Gamma Sigma Kappa. This all-around person becomes a member of the national association of Who's Who Among American Universities and Colleges. Most of the students listed on this roll have proved to become successes in later life. The potential of the Who's Who members of Bethany will certainly keep up this tradition. If you have ever seen one of these human dynamos at work on campus, you must agree that they deserve the honor.

Students who consistently excel in scholarship are given recognition by an invitation to membership in Bethany's honorary scholastic fraternity, Gamma Sigma Kappa. Before being tapped for membership, a student must maintain a 3.25 scholarship index for four semesters of full academic work, with no semester below a 3.0 average. Quite an order, huh? No more than ten percent of the student body may be taken into this organization. The group hopes to join Phi Beta Kappa in the near future. Dr. Earl McKenzie has been the faculty advisor for a number of years, and Carl Henson served as president this year with Sally Guttormsen as secretary.

Bethany Kalon is a citizenship Honor Society established to give recognition to leadership in student enterprises and activities. Men and women students are selected who have demonstrated competence in leadership of activities, constructive citizenship in the college community, satisfactory scholarship, and high standards of character. New members are selected by a joint meeting of the Faculty Kalon committee and the present members of Kalon. This year's officers included: President, Tom Blowers; Vice President, Bruce Ringler; and Secretary, Sandy Stevick.

IRC AND ECONOMIC CLUB

In this day and age, the International Relations Club has little trouble in selecting a topic to discuss. This year's programs have dealt with Denmark, Communist China, the West Indies, the Near East, India, the economic aspects of the cold war, international cooperation in Europe, American foreign policy, and other related subjects. A variety of topics like these have made the IRC a club to join regardless of one's major field.

The IRC promotes among the students of Bethany a greater knowledge and understanding of the economic, social, and political aspects of the nations of the world in the hope that in some small way this will aid in forming an increased sense of brotherhood and toleration toward all peoples. An annual banquet featured Dr. Albert Martin of Pitt.

SCIENCE INTEREST

While the IRC and the Economics clubs have increased in activity, the Chemistry Club has declined in membership. The club is composed of those students who have a genuine interest in chemistry. It offers them an opportunity to increase their knowledge in chemistry and other related fields such as research, sales, analytical and medical processes.

This year, however, several of its members have done work on varied research projects, and some chemistry students attended the national meeting of the American Chemical Society in Cleveland.

Last year the Chemistry Club became a student affiliate chapter of the American Chemical Society, a national professional organization. The club is under the direction of Dr. Draper.

ECONOMICS CLUB—Sitting: S. Bell, E. Riedl, C. Jenkins, D. Waldeland, N. Ross, L. Malone, S. Nott, F. Watson. Standing: R. Reddington, W. Weaver, J. Graham, H. Letts, R. Hastings, W. Jonsson, T. Gaffey, J. Blair, A. Tanenbaum, W. Sheppard, J. Simchock, R. Cloues.

NOW LARGE AND ACTIVE

The dismal future that seemed to face the Economics Club vanished this year when the faculty and students in economics put forth a combined effort to "re-organize" the club. Dr. Ross, the new head of the Economics Department, and Mr. Slavin, an inspiring professor in the same department, made continuous announcements in class and helped obtain some interest.

The club had a very successful banquet and obtained some excellent speakers. A union representative discussed the worker's position in the steel strike and Dr. Kirkpatrick retaliated with management's version on the strike. Other topics were: stocks and bonds, government economics, and open debate.

Walt Jonsson served as president for a short term before turning the business cycle over to Rick Reddington.

IN CHEM AND BIO

Bethany's Alpha Phi chapter of Beta Beta Beta is an affiliate of the National Biological Society. In order to become a member of this honorary fraternity, one must achieve and maintain a "B" average in all of his biology courses.

This year Tri-Beta has upheld its purpose by encouraging individual biological research and the presentation of results to the group. Members also represented Bethany and presented papers at the District Tri-Beta Convention at Grove City College, and at the West Virginia Academy of Science at Concord College. Advisors for the year were Dr. Weimer and Dr. Jacobs. Officers were: Sally Guttormsen, President; Stanley Faigen, Vice President; Marilyn Walliser, Secretary; Bob Rubin, Treasurer; and Linda Lewis, Historian.

WOMEN GOVERN WITH A.W.S., SPORTS IN W.R.A.

The governing body of the women students is the Association of Women's Students Board and is composed of two women students from each residence. It oversees the operation of the Social Honor System and provides a brief orientation program for new women students. Calendar highlights were: the A.W.S. Carnival, the annual May Morning Breakfast in honor of senior women. a lodge party. and a Leap Year Dance. This year's President was Barbara Queern.

With the passing of a new constitution, the former Women's Athletic Association became the Women's Recreational Association. This new intramural program, controlled by the W.R.A., appoints one woman student to oversee each divisional sport. These sports include swimming, basketball, volleyball, and softball, and gives the coeds a chance through participation to earn letters. Letters were presented at the annual Desert Hour. A tribunal for freshman women was also held.

The new Psychology Club was founded by its past president, Edward Silverg, with the purpose of creating interest in every aspect of the field of psychology. Highlights of the year included talks by distinguished guests, a panel discussion of "Psychoanalysis and You," and a motion picture on social work.

The guest speakers included Dr. Gresham, Dean Preston, Miss Mathison, Dr. Ray, and Mr. Carty. Mr. Cochran gave a program utilizing the animal laboratory and described how rats and mice are used in psychological research. These programs were planned so that students with or without a background would enjoy the meetings. The new President is Mary Ann McConnell and Charles Lopushansky, Secretary-Treasurer.

Another new organization, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, made its appearance on campus with car washes, a rained-out donkey basketball game, and eager concern about getting off to a good start. The purpose of the J.C.'s is to sponsor and further projects for the betterment of the community and to promote leadership training for its members. The organization plans to work in conjunction with the city council during the next school year. Bernie Kershner was elected as President.

Sock and Buskin is the active student theatre organization. The adjective "active" is affirmed by the past season during which Sock and Buskin presented five plays and participated in the staging of one opera. They were: Our Town, No Exit, The Happy Journey, Riders to the Sea, and Dido and Aeneas. Any student participating in different phases of dramatic production such as acting, staging, lighting, costuming, or make-up, may become a member. The group's constitution says it exists "to provide a basic agent for producing plays at Bethany College and to stimulate interest in drama and theatre at Bethany College." Mr. Babington, Head of the Speech and Drama Department and advisor for Sock and Buskin and Alpha Psi Omega, has helped the students greatly in the ways of the theatre as was shown by the enjoyable reactions of the student body at the productions. This year's officers were: William Cowan, President; Karl Nations, Vice President; and Kay Sempliner, Secretary-Treasurer.

Alpha Psi Omega is the national dramatic fraternity. Membership is obtained by those who have earned the necessary number of points in acting and play production. It has become quite small this year due to the graduation of more than half of its members.

Founded in 1959 by its President, Alexander Speer, the Arts Club is mainly concerned with the visual arts, music, and poetry. This year the Arts Club held meetings to discuss such topics as stained glass, folk music, jazz, Gertrude Stein's poetry, and the life and poetry of Vachel Lindsay. The other officers were: Vice President, Raymond Wolf; and Secretary-Treasurer, Thomas Waddel.

The Modern Language Club drew up and adopted a new constitution at the beginning of the year. In December, the club presented its traditional Christmas Serenade, caroling throughout Bethany familiar French, German, and Spanish songs. Other interesting programs included talks by our foreign exchange students, Gaston Guerra from Ecuador, and Edda Riedl from Austria. In May, their annual dance was held as a French "street dance" on the corridor. The President was Scott Wagner and Advisors were Mr. Forbes and Mr. Ferris.

SINGING GROUPS ARE

There has always been an abundance of singers on Bethany's campus and the result is an interesting assortment of singing groups. The Messiah Choir, the Concert Choir, and the Male Chorus, are quite successful themselves not to mention the many other groups that arise from different fraternities and sororities.

ENG FANS AND DEMOCRATS BEGIN NEW CLUBS

On March 16, 1960, Bethany College was privileged with the addition of another honorary. On that date, Iota Theta chapter of Sigma Tau Delta, National Professional English Honorary, held its first meeting and the final steps in the organization of the fraternity were taken. Requirements for membership were set up as Junior standing or above, a 3.0 average in English with a minimum of 15 hours, and a 2.5 cumulative average.

Projects proposed for future consideration are the provision of a special shelf in the library containing new editions the college might not otherwise be able to acquire, and the donation of medals for the Freshman Writing Contest. The officers for the following year are: David Updegraff, President; Ann Maloney, Vice President; Carolyn Nall, Secretary-Treasurer; Sponsor, Miss Helen Louise McGuffie. Mr. John Taylor is an honorary member.

DEMOCRATS—M. Walliser, H. Segal, Hebert Smith, E. Kinney, N. Remke, M. Patton.

Political dialogue on campus was stimulated by the Young Democrats Club. Caught in the imbalance of Republican strength, twenty students established Bethany's only political organization. The members became more politically astute and articulate by working in the campaigns of Senator Humphrey and Hubert Smith. Unfortunately both candidates lost in the famous West Virginia Primary of 1960. The Young Democrats have not committed themselves about Senator Kennedy. Maybe they should work in his campaign, it seems more promising. Also in the "straw vote" given by Ex-governor O'Neill of Ohio, the Republicans swept to a complete victory. Who can tell, however, this new Democrats Club may spread its influence. Bill Liptman, Milton Patton, and Bob Fukes served as officers. Mr. Bullard served as faculty advisor.

"A Comparison of American and European Education" was the center of discussion this year for the Student National Education Association. The S.N.E.A. held a Christmas party for Bethany children and a spring picnic for students.

Students majoring in education at Bethany get some "field training" in their senior year when they teach in nearby schools. Grades are given on their student teaching and must be satisfactory for them to graduate with a Bachelor of Arts degree in teaching.

This organization welcomes both education majors and all others interested in present day educational problems. This year's President was Cathi Nelson.

Alexander Speer has founded still another club at Bethany College. This is the Discussion Group, founded in 1958 to replace the Debating Society. Well, this is one way to become president of an organization. Nevertheless, this elocutionary group held informal debates and discussions concerning the American draft system, the cranberry situation, God concepts, and folk music. The club primarily discusses subjects of a cultural nature not covered in the ordinary college curriculum. This year's officers were: Alexander Speer, President; Carmine Calabrese, Vice President; and Charles Lopushansky, Secretary-Treasurer.

RELIGIOUS GROUPS HELP ADD A WHOLESOME LIFE TO STUDENTS AT BETHANY

Although the Ministerial Association at Bethany is designed to offer a program which will be interesting and of value to all students who may be preparing for a church-related vocation, membership is not restricted to ministerial students. Sponsored by the Ministerial Training Program, it is the purpose of the group to provide field work in the ministerial area. This consists of trips to such places as the Seay Home for Children and other needy areas close to Bethany. At the monthly meetings, topics which are of concern to all ministerial students are discussed and guest speakers are brought to the campus, providing an especially fine opportunity to learn the work of the minister in all situations. This year's officers have been: John Aupperle, President; Jean Thompson, Vice President; Patricia Muckley, Secretary; and Terry Nichols, Treasurer.

The Canterbury Club holds bi-weekly meetings for devotions and a communion service to create unity and fellowship among Episcopalian students. The founders and sponsors, Miss Woods and Mr. Taylor, accompany students to Episcopal churches in the surrounding area when significant holidays are to be observed.

Many students at Bethany find an opportunity for an expression of their religious faiths in the Bethany Memorial Church. As Student Members of the church, they may participate in the Student Congregation of which the Student Church Board is the Executive Committee. The program of Student Congregation includes all the activities of students in the church: choir, Sunday morning class and worship service, and Sunday evening fellowship. This year Jeanne Thompson served as President, Larry Frye as Secretary-Treasurer, and Mr. Lemon as Adult Advisor.

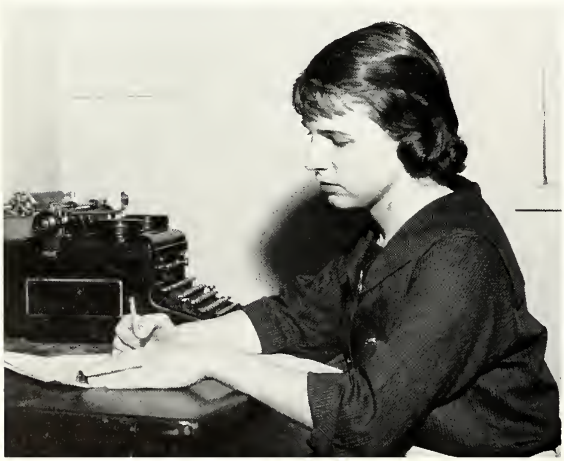
TOWER STAFF WORKS EXTRA HARD THIS YEAR



Marilyn Walliser, News Editor, bangs it out.

The presses were rolling inside room GG of the barracks. The Tower staff was at work putting new ideas on paper. Published bi-weekly as a news service for the students, the Tower expanded this year in all directions. With Roberta Holt as Editor, Marilyn Walliser as News Editor, John Foster as Feature Editor, and Dick Strockbine as Sports Editor, the Tower Office was virtually a miniature Bee Hive.

A new type of paper was innovated but discarded as too expensive. This year, students witnessed the Tower's first six-page edition, followed immediately by its first eight-page edition. The eight-page edition included two picture pages covering social events. The Tower also published its first special edition in conjunction with the Sophomore Show. Other changes included a different picture of a fraternity and sorority house in the "Gadding with the Greeks" column, a column for S.P.O.G., an international news summary column, and increased picture coverage.

EDITS 8-PAGE PAPER WITH MORE PICTURES

The Tower staff furthered its knowledge of operations when Roberta Holt, John Foster, Marilyn Walliser, along with Mike Barrett, Editor of the Bethanian, traveled to New York city for three days in November. They attended the 30th annual Association Press Conference at the New Yorker Hotel. The Student Board of Governors appropriated a sum to cover traveling expenses and registration fees. The returning publication editors stated that the trip was invaluable but the remaining expenses were paid by the students themselves, eager to give personal sacrifice in an effort to give Bethany College better publications.

Alexander Speer, Business Manager, stretched Tower dollars to the maximum but the Tower ran short of funds near the end of the year. An advertising campaign was mapped out in anticipation of more income for the approaching year. It is hoped that the Tower will gain additional funds so it can keep going the excellent improvements made this year.

John Foster, News Editor, debates its value.

Mike Barrett, the 1960 Editor, who is surrounded by various problems, and who has to be tough and gentle simultaneously, manages a smile.

BETHANIAN TAKES

The 1960 Bethanian was indeed a huge undertaking. When Mike Barrett, this year's Editor, decided to give the yearbook a complete face lifting, the problems encountered were quite a challenge. An expert had to encounter the pages one at a time to meet Mike's requirements.

First major undertaking was the cover of the book. Ray Wolf, our expert Art Editor, did a magnificent job with the color and the design. Ray showed, throughout the book, art work that blended in smoothly with the Gothic theme.

One of the larger changes was the increase in pages from 130 to 192, giving extra room to show all of Bethany's clubs and organizations fully. Color in the 1960 annual gives the book a bright and different pattern. We could afford to use color this year because of the surplus left from last year.

Professional photography was used as much as possible to give a professional look hard to achieve with student photographers. Copy was used extensively in the annual through the Faculty Section as well as the rest of the book, the purpose being to produce pages that will have some value in the future. We tried to get away from the old "scrapbook" type of yearbook.

Walt Jonsson, Business Manager, is found in a natural state in the office going over and over the figures necessary for the goal.

ON A NEW LOOK

All of our changes and improvements, plus the cost of the Bethanian itself, cost over $6,000 and is a great deal more than we are appropriated. Because of this added cost, Walt Jonsson, Business Manager, waged a strenuous and successful advertising campaign. Not only did he reach the goal: he also brought all of the business records up to date and left a well organized program for next year. John Graham, who slid into control as the new Business Manager at the end of the year, will begin his job next year with the distribution of the books in the fall.

One of Mike Barrett's toughest tasks was to start a program where data is passed on from year to year eliminating old mistakes. Julie Frankel, the new Editor, already shows the knowledge necessary for a good job.

Not to be overlooked is Mr. Carty who helped the Editor throughout the year and insured that planning was functioning. Dean Preston was indeed helpful with his suggestions and encouragement.

We thank all for their interest this year and hope the 1960 Bethanian is all that we promised.

The Editors get together for a light discussion about the functions of a camera.

The Student Board of Publications is composed of the editor and business manager of the four publications; the Bethany Tower, the Bethanian, the Literary Harbinger, and the Student Handbook. A petition was submitted to the Student Board of Governors, its representative, by the members of this board to place the Bethanian and the Tower under the supervision of the Journalism Department and make the editor and business manager positions salaried.

The Literary Harbinger, Bethany's creative writing magazine, is published annually and consists of the original short stories. essays, and poems of both the students and the faculty. This year's Harbinger included outstanding short stories from the Freshman Writing Contest as well as work by members of Sigma Tau Delta and articles written for creative writing and journalism classes. Its Editor was Joan Preston and its Business Manager, Sylvia Hilts.

HOMECOMING DANCE

Homecoming weekend, which was held on October 10 and 11 this year, was highlighted by the Saturday afternoon football game and the homecoming dance that evening. Although Bethany lost the grid contest, the dance, which was held at the Pine Room in Oglebay Park, was a great success.

Homecoming festivities began when the Moos escorted the spirited freshmen to Rine Field. The many alums, that were present for the weekend, could probably remember the day when they were Floats, which were displayed in a half-time procession, were built by all sororities and fraternities. They were to symbolize a victory for the Bisons in the homecoming encounter. Also included in the procession were the girls nominated for queen. Miss Rosalie Dennis was the students' choice, and she was crowned that evening at the Pine Room.

ANNUAL CLEW

"Is it Right or Wrong?" This question was foremost in the minds of Bethany students during the week of November 17-19, for that was the theme of the annual Christian Living Emphasis Week.

The week began with a dinner on Monday evening. On the following days, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, seminars, discussions, and debates, with the guest speakers presiding, filled the busy CLEW schedule. The discussions were held at fra-

CHRISTMAS ARRIVES AT BETHANY

The Yuletide season saw both fraternities and sororities having Christmas parties. The houses were pleasantly decorated with gayly trimmed Christmas trees, holly and mistletoe.

The faculty presented their annual play at Commencement Hall. It used Rodger's and Hammerstein's "Mikado" as the theme. Most of the professors and administration took part in the gala presentation.

As a final touch the Christmas dinner was perfect. Turkey, which the student table heads sliced, was served. The dinner climaxed a very enjoyable week. after which the students looked forward to spending their two-week vacation at home.

SNOWFALL BRINGS

The winter carnival, which Bethany students have long been clamoring for, finally materialized. The first big snowfall of the year put the Student Board of Governors to work trying to get at least one half of a day off from classes. After succeeding in doing this a schedule of events was made and closely followed the afternoon of the carnival.

The program started with all fraternities and sororities building statues which were later to be judged. The Alpha Sigma Phis won the prize

In the evening there was a lodge party at Phillips Hall. Sally Wood, a sophomore, was crowned as the queen of the winter carnival by Paul Neal, the school's social chairman.

PARENTS HEAR

The May 7th and 8th Mother's Day weekend brought the parents of many students to the blooming spring campus of Bethany, where they were pleasantly entertained with a full schedule of activities.

A Saturday afternoon tea marked the opening of the art exhibit in the drawing room of Phillips Hall. Immediately following there was a concert in Old Main and in the evening a play was presented by Dr. Dale, A. Jorgenson and Professor John Babington. It was found out this spring in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, that Bethany College students enjoy having fun as much as the college students of other schools. PROGRESS

Bethanians have watched the appearance of their campus slowly changing during the past two years. The changes that have appeared are the new Phillips Memorial Library and the new girls' dormitory.

The library was dedicated on June 5, gradnation weekend. Many parents were at school and were greatly impressed by the modern building. It will be ready for use in the fall of 1960.

The new girls' dormitory, which will also be ready in the fall of 1960, will house two of the sororities that are on Bethany's campus.

GRID SQUAD TROUNCES OLD RIVAL W. & J.

By trouncing arch-rival Washington and Jefferson College 54-20, Bethany's 1959 grid aggregation under the reins of head coach John J. Knight and assistants Harold Edgar Martin and William Hanna salvaged only a single victory in eight outings.

Inaugurating the season at Rine Field, Bethany bowed to West Virginia Wesleyan, 27-6. Quarterback Wills Young returned a punt 70 yards for the Bisons' lone tally. John Carroll University, eventual PAC champions, then humbled the Bisons by handing the Green and White a 45-0 shellacking. Coach Knight, in his twenty-ninth year as Bethany's grid mentor, sent his charges against Western Reserve University in the Bisons' annual homecoming game. A bitter and determined Bethany eleven led the highly touted Red Cats and defending PAC champs for three and a half quarters before giving way to a 12-8 defeat.

Bethany then lost encounters to Allegheny and Thiel by respective scores of 19-16 and 21-16, before pounding W&J. Halfback Julie Frankel raced 55 yards to paydirt on the first play from scrimmage against the Presidents and was practically able to score at will on the rain-soaked field. Bethany closed the '59 campaign with setbacks from Grove City and Marietta, 23-6 and 32-8, respectively.

Outstanding for the Bisons was Junior quarterback Young. Leading the Presidents' Athletic Conference in total offense with 669 yards gained, Young punted for an average of 44.5 yards to tie for first honors in the nation. Pacing the Bisons in individual scoring with 32 points, Young was selected as the all-PAC quarterback by the league's coaches.

Ends Arne Anderson, senior, and Al Hammond, junior, were the two leading pass receivers in the Presidents' Athletic Conference. Anderson, who signed a contract with the Buffalo Bills in the new American Football League, snagged 28 aerials while Hammond caught 14. Frankel led the Bison rushing attack.

HOOPMEN'S BEST SEASON IN 30 YEARS

Compiling its best record in more than thirty years. the '59-'60 Bison cage squad registered 12 victories against 6 defeats. Coached by Harold Edgar Martin, the Bethany basketball team finished behind John Carroll University and Wayne State University, respectively, to take third place in the Presidents' Athletic Conference. Bethany's team posted nine wins and four setbacks in PAC competition.

Coach Martin's usual starting five consisted of Bruce Ringler, John Stetsko, Don Dodge, Joe Kurey, and Dick Shaffer. Ringler, Stetsko, and Dodge were regulars on the '58-'59 cage squad. Bob Coulter was the first substitute for any of the front-court men while either Carl Trosch or John Osborne provided relief for the guards. Forming the remaining bench strength on the '59-'60 basketball team were John Haniford, Larry Sayre, Bill Scott, and Paul Himes.

Ringler and Stetsko led the Bisons in scoring with averages of 16 and 14 points a game, respectively. Don Dodge, who averaged 13, was chosen by Coach Martin to be the captain of next year's varsity.

BASEBALL TEAM GOES WINLESS

The Bethany College Baseball aggregation failed to register a single victory in eleven outings during the spring campaign of 1960.

Coached by John J. Knight, the Bison diamond nine came close to winning, however, on three occasions. Bethany bowed to Washington and Jefferson. 5-4. and in an extra-inning contest to California State Teachers, 11-10. In the last game of the season the Bisons led the West Virginia Mountaineers, 2-0, before going down to a 4-2 defeat. Bethany also lost a double-header to Western Reserve. two games to Allegheny. a single game to Marietta, and other encounters with California, W.&J. and W.V.U.

Vernon Black, the only senior on the squad, carried the burden of the pitching chores with relief from Jim Lash and Emil Ostenberg. After juggling his line-up several times, Coach Knight came to rely upon a starting team consisting of Roger Chain, catcher; Jim Compagnone, first base; Julie Frankel, second base; Al Hammond, shortstop; Dick Strockbine, third base; George Henne, left field; Fred Johnson, center field; and Jim Schollaert, right field. Catchers Nick Sarap and Bill Wetzel and outfielder Ron Schmidt also lettered. Hammond. Henne. and Frankel paced the Bisons' hitting attack.

TRACK TEAM PLACES THIRD IN STATE

The Bethany thinclads, who haven't had a successful season since 1953, put a smile on the face of Coach Edgar Martin by posting a record of five victories against three defeats in season play, and succeeded in obtaining third place in the state meet.

The Bisons were victorious in downing Thiel twice and John Carroll once. Bethany's old rival West Liberty fell to the sprinting Bisons twice.

Under the leadership of co-captains Schaumberg and Haniford, training began in early March. Although practices were interrupted by vacations and snow the team remained in good condition, and when the weather became warm the cinders began to fly.

Freshmen Marc Arnold and Don Ashton made it evident that they liked to follow no one as did hurdler Em Trushel, who accounted for valuable points in every meet. Discus thrower Schaumberg, aside from taking several first places, set a new school record with a throw of more than 125 feet. John Haniford did well in the distance events and Freshman Bill Beile proved himself to be a capable relay man.

Graduation will take hurdler Arne Anderson, broad jumper Ed Ihle, and 440 yard man Steve Merselis; however, the Bisons should remain strong and with some development in the field events, a good season can be expected next year. Coach Martin has stated that with a little more hard work and determination the team should be a main power in the P.A.C.

SWIMMING TEAM HAS FEW VICTORIES

Coach Preston found his team weak in some spots, but strong in others. Captain Rodefer and his teammate Rowland did well in the freestyle events while Sally Lisker shone in the butterfly. Sutton, Montaquilla, and Smith did the diving.

This year's swimming team managed to post only two wins while suffering six defeats. Their victories were over Western Reserve and Fairmont, their losses to Allegheny, Washington and Jefferson, Case, West Virginia U., Fairmont and Slippery Rock.

TENNIS TEAM WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

The 1960 tennis team turned in a winning record of six victories against four defeats. The highlight of the season was a team victory in the W.V.I.A.C. state tournament, held at Oglebay Park. Joe Kurey, who won the state singles crown, turned in the best record of the season for the Bison net men.

Seniors Dave Dunham and Russ Saunders were co-captains, while Mike Barrett, a junior, was a returning letter winner from last year's squad. The team was rounded out by newcomers Ken Chernow, Steve Olster, Stan Wheeler, and Howard Singer.

This year's team is another credit to the expert coaching of Mr. Peterson, whose teams have turned in winning records quite consistently during his years of coaching at Bethany College.

HARRY MYERS IS NEW GOLF COACH

Harry Myers took over the position of coach this year in the absence of Dr. Lester McAllister. The starting five golfers were freshmen, Dick Porter and Jim Zimmerman, junior John Montaquilla, and senior co-captains, Tom Giesey and Clyde Billings. Other members of the squad were sophomores, Gerry Gallagher and Bob Lakamp, and junior Walt Slater.

The Bisons gained a fifth place in the state tournament of the West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, held at Oglebay, the Bisons' home course. In the Presidents' Athletic Conference match, held at Mount Lebanon Country Club in Pennsylvania, the Bethany College aggregation placed eighth.

Graduation will take co-captains Giesey and Billings, and the remaining members of the squad will find it difficult to fill the gap left by them.

CHEERLEADERS KEEP SPIRIT HIGH

The '59-'60 cheerleaders began this year's season with a pep rally for all new students in Commencement Hall. This was done to acquaint them with some of Bethany's cheers and songs. The football and basketball teams were always accompanied by the eight cheerleaders, along with a sometimes spirited student body, to cheer their team on to victory.

The squad sold mum corsages at the homecoming game, led pep rallies in the Bee Hive and in the Coal Bowl, and sponsored Reverse Weekend.

The graduating seniors are Sally Kelly, Carolyn Jenkins, and Barbara Wolff. Sally was the captain this year and Mary MacConnel was elected to this position for the coming year.

PHI TAUS WIN INTRAMURAL TROPHY

Bethany's intramural program offered a wide range of activities for those who didn't participate in varsity athletics. Activities included touch football, tennis, and cross country in the fall; basketball, volleyball, and swimming during the winter months; and track, softball, horseshoes, golf, and ping pong in the spring. The greatest emphasis of the intramural program was on tournament play, which included football, basketball, and softball.

Eligible for entrance into the intramural program were all fraternities and independent groups on campus. Particular interest was shown by all groups that participated in the program.

Phi Kappa Tau fraternity compiled the most points in all activities to win the intramural trophy this year. Many of their points were obtained in winning track, basketball and softball championships. Beta Theta Pi and Sigma Nu fraternities were in strong contention for the lead throughout the year, but the Phis widened their lead in the spring events. The Varsity Participation Award is given to the group that has the best representation in varsity sports, and this year the Sigma Nus won it.

The women at Bethany also have an intramural program. It is set up and supervised by the Women's Recreation Association, and some of the activities included are volleyball, basketball, softball, swimming, and archery. The WRA appoints one student to oversee each division. Participation in these sports gives the co-eds a chance for them to become members and earn letters in the WRA.

MOOS ADD SPIRIT

The Moo Moo Moo was organized in 1923 as an honorary pep organization for the purpose of maintaining college spirit and student morale. With their activity clothed in secrecy, the bulls of the Moo select their calves and train them in the obscure ways of keeping ever high the name of dear old Bethany.

The official garb of the organization is any old dilapidated hat and bathrobe, curiously ornamented with a wide variety of beverage advertisements.

The "three moos," led this year by Rick Reddington, have added much color to the home football and basketball games. They helped raise school spirit by entering humor into the events with mimicry and gymnastic stunts. They also put life into the Bee Hive pep rallies with their humorous skits.

MAL RUSH SPEAKS AT SPORTS BANQUET

Coach Knight receives gift from the football team.

The Bethany College athletic schedule came to a close on March 18 with the annual sports banquet, at which Mal Rush was the guest speaker. Mr. Rush told the athletes that physical exercise is a prerequisite for quick thinking in the business world.

At the dinner, all the varsity participants received shaving mugs as a token of appreciation from the school's Athletic Department. Larger trophies were also given to those who excelled in their individual sports. Wills Young received the most valuable football player trophy and Arne Anderson received the trophy for the best athlete.

The tennis team was awarded a trophy for their victory in the West Virginia State Match and John Stetsko received the most valuable basketball player award.

Some of the players, in return for the good coaching and guidance they received, presented their coaches with gifts, as a sign of their gratitude.

Athletes await their moment of recognition.

Coach Knight gives out the football mugs.

Ever meet a Doubting Thomas?

A college senior once remarked to a Bell System interviewer: "A telephone career must be a mirage. I hear talk about fabulous training, fascinating work, grade-A job security, and rapid advancement in management. Sounds a bit too rosy. What's the real story?"

The interviewer knew mere talk wouldn't sell a skeptic. So he showed him some "profiles" of recent college graduates who had enjoyed that fabulous training, had worked at intriguing jobs, and had won early management promotions.

Our once-skeptical friend has been with the Bell System 3 years now—and is currently supervising the work of 55 other telephone people.

We've converted a host of Doubting Thomases. Whether doubtful or not, you'll learn a lot about rewarding telephone careers by talking with our interviewer when he visits your campus. Also read the Bell Telephone booklet on file in your Placement Office.
